Case No. 3:20-cv-05218-WHO

PLAINTIFF’S NOTICE OF MOTION AND UNOPPOSED MOTION FOR PRELIMINARY APPROVAL OF CLASS ACTION SETTLEMENT;
SUPPORTING MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

Date: July 7, 2021

Time: 2:00 p.m.

Courtroom: 2, 17th Floor

Judge: Hon. William H. Orrick

1 TO ALL PARTIES AND THEIR ATTORNEYS OF RECORD:

2 NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT on July 7, 2021, at 2:00 p.m., or as soon thereafter
3 as counsel may be heard by the above-captioned Court, in Courtroom 2 on the 17th Floor of the San 4 Francisco United States Courthouse, 450 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, CA 94102, the 5 Honorable William H. Orrick presiding, Plaintiff Deborah Jordan (“Plaintiff”), by and through her 6 undersigned counsel of record, will and hereby does move, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e), for 7 the Court to: (i) grant preliminary approval of the proposed Stipulation of Class Action Settlement
8 and Release (the “Settlement” or “Settlement Agreement”) submitted herewith; (ii) provisionally 9 certify the Class for the purposes of preliminary approval, designate Plaintiff as the Class 10 Representative, and appoint Bursor & Fisher, P.A., as Class Counsel; (iii) establish procedures for 11 providing notice to members of the Class; (iv) approve forms of notice to Class Members; (v)

17 accompanying [Proposed] Order Granting Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement (the 18 “[Proposed] Preliminary Approval Order”).

22 pleadings and papers on file in this Action; and such other evidence and argument as may 23 subsequently be presented to the Court.

1       I.       INTRODUCTION

2               Plaintiff Deborah Jordan (“Plaintiff”), by and through Class Counsel,<sup>1</sup> respectfully submits 3 this memorandum in support of Plaintiff’s Unopposed Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class
4 Action Settlement. In this putative class action, Plaintiff alleges that Defendant WP Company LLC
5 (“Defendant” or “WaPo”) has failed to comply with California’s Automatic Renewal Law 6 (“ARL”), Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17600, et seq., which imposes detailed information, notice, 7 and consent requirements on businesses that make automatic renewal or continuous service offers 8 to California consumers. Since filing the Complaint, the Parties have engaged in informal 9 discovery, which shows Defendant collected renewal fees from approximately 321,671 subscribers
10 during the Class Period in a manner that allegedly did not comply with the ARL.

11               After mediation in March 2021, the Parties reached a class settlement agreement that, if 12 approved, will deliver immediate and substantial monetary and in-kind relief to putative Class 13 Members and will resolve Plaintiff’s and the putative class’s claims against Defendant. The 14 Stipulation of Class Action Settlement Agreement and Release (the “Settlement”) and its exhibits
15 are submitted as Exhibit 1 to the contemporaneously filed Declaration of Frederick J. Klorczyk III 16 (the “Klorczyk Decl.”). The Settlement consists of cash and non-cash benefits with a total value of 17 approximately $6,762,480. Under the Settlement’s terms, WaPo will automatically provide over 18 $4,362,480 worth of account credit codes (the “Automatic Account Credit Codes”) to Class
19 Members who do nothing during the claims process, and will also establish a non-reversionary
20 cash Settlement Fund in the amount of $2,400,000, which will be used to pay all approved claims 21 by Class Members, notice and administration expenses, a Court-approved incentive award to 22 Plaintiff, and attorneys’ fees to proposed Class Counsel to the extent awarded by the Court.

23               Defendant does not oppose this motion. Given the exceptional relief secured on behalf of 24 the Class, the Court should have no hesitation finding that the Settlement is fair and reasonable, 25 and warrants preliminary approval. Accordingly, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court:
26 (1) grant preliminary approval of the proposed Settlement; (2) conditionally certify the settlement 27 class under Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3); (3) appoint Frederick J. Klorczyk III of Bursor & Fisher, P.A.

28
<sup>1</sup> All capitalized terms not otherwise defined herein shall have the same definitions as set out in the Settlement Agreement. See Klorczyk Decl. Ex. 1.

1 as Class Counsel; (4) appoint Plaintiff Deborah Jordan as the Class Representative for the 2 Settlement Class; (5) approve the Notice Plan described in the Settlement and direct its 3 distribution; and (6) schedule a hearing for final approval.

4 II. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

5 A. California’s Automatic Renewal Law

6 On December 1, 2010, the California Legislature enacted the Automatic Renewal Law
 7 (“ARL”) with the intent to “end the practice of ongoing charging of consumer credit or debit cards 8 or third-party payment accounts without the consumers’ explicit consent for ongoing shipments of 9 a product or ongoing deliveries of service.” See First Amended Complaint (ECF No. 22) (“FAC”)
 10 ¶ 21 (citing statement of legislative intent). In 2018, the California Legislature amended the ARL 11 to increase consumer protections for orders that contain free trial and promotional pricing, and 12 subscription agreements entered into online. See id. ¶ 22. Thus, the ARL’s core requirements are 13 that: (1) businesses must clearly and conspicuously disclose automatic renewal terms of any offer, 14 as defined by the statute; (2) they must obtain a consumer’s affirmative consent; and (3) they must 15 provide consumers with an acknowledgment containing the terms of the automatically renewing
 16 offer and cancellation information. See id. ¶ 23. Private citizens in California may enforce ARL
 17 violations as predicate claims under California’s Unfair Competition Law (“UCL”), Cal. Bus. &
 18 Prof. Code §§ 17200, et seq., which prohibits “any unlawful[] ... business act or practice[.]” See 19 FAC ¶ 72. Additionally, ARL violations may constitute acts of false advertising in violation of 20 California’s False Advertising Law (“FAL”), Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17500, et seq. See FAC
 21 ¶¶ 93-97. Finally, ARL violations may also constitute violations under California’s Consumers 22 Legal Remedies Act (“CLRA”), Cal. Civ. Code §§ 1750, et seq. See FAC ¶¶ 102-05.

23 B. Plaintiff’s Allegations

24 Defendant is an international media company that, among other activities, publishes and 25 distributes to California consumers digital editions of The Washington Post and provides 26 automatically renewing subscription plans for various digital products and services under the 27 Washington Post brand name (the “WaPo Subscriptions”). Plaintiff alleges that Defendant 28 automatically renewed Class Members’ WaPo Subscriptions in violation of the ARL. FAC ¶ 1.

1 Specifically, Plaintiff alleges that when consumers sign up for a WaPo Subscription through the 2 WaPo Website or App, Defendant enrolls consumers in an automatically renewing subscription
3 that results in monthly or annual charges to the consumer's payment method. Id. Plaintiff further 4 alleges that Defendant engages in these autorenewal practices without first providing California 5 consumers the requisite disclosures and authorizations required under the ARL. Id. Furthermore, 6 Plaintiff alleges that every violation of the ARL constitutes an "unlawful" practice under the UCL.
7 Id. ¶¶ 72-74. Plaintiff contends Defendant also violated the FAL and CLRA. Id. ¶¶ 94-95, 104-05.
8 On that basis, Plaintiff also brought common law claims against Defendant for conversion, unjust 9 enrichment, negligent misrepresentation, and fraud. Id. ¶¶ 4, 89, 111, 115-17, 123-24.

10 C. The Litigation History, Defendant's Motion To Dismiss And 11 Settlement Discussions

12 On July 29, 2020, Plaintiff filed her initial Class Action Complaint in the United States 13 District Court for the Northern District of California, alleging that Defendant's renewal charge was 14 in violation of the ARL, thus giving rise to claims under California's UCL, FAL, CLRA, and other 15 common law claims. See Klorczyk Decl. ¶ 5; see also ECF No. 1. On September 21, 2020, 16 Defendant moved to dismiss under Rule 12(b)(6), arguing, that Plaintiff had failed to state a claim.
17 ECF No. 21. On October 5, 2020, Plaintiff filed the operative FAC. ECF No. 22. In addition to 18 claims for relief brought by Plaintiff's initial Complaint, the FAC contains a request for damages
19 under the CLRA at Count IV. See id. ¶ 104. On October 19, 2020, Defendant moved to dismiss
20 the FAC under Rule 12(b)(6). ECF No. 23. In its motion, Defendant argued that its pre-checkout 21 disclosures complied with the ARL because they provided all of the information required, in a clear 22 and conspicuous manner, and further argued that Plaintiff's had not stated a claim for fraud and 23 negligent misrepresentation because, among other reasons, Plaintiff had not identified a false 24 statement or any specific omissions from the pre-purchase disclosures, and because any omissions 25 in the post-purchase disclosures could not have influenced Plaintiff's decision to purchase her 26 subscription. Id. On November 19, 2020, before Plaintiff's opposition brief was due, the Parties
27 filed a Joint Stipulation and Proposed Order with the Court, indicating that the Parties had agreed 28 to engage in private mediation and requesting that the Court enter an order staying all upcoming

1 deadlines pending settlement discussions. ECF No. 28. The following day, on November 20, 2 2020, the Court entered an order granting the Parties' request. ECF No. 29.

3 From the outset, the Parties engaged in direct communications regarding early resolution as 4 required by Fed. R. Civ. P. 26, and discussed the prospect of an early resolution. Those 5 discussions eventually led to an agreement between the Parties to engage in early mediation, which 6 the Parties agreed would take place before Jill R. Sperber, Esq., an experienced neutral affiliated 7 with Judicate West. See Klorczyk Decl. ¶ 11. Prior to the mediation, the Parties exchanged 8 informal discovery, including on issues such as the size and scope of the putative class, 9 representative web and mobile pay flow and check out pages, digital acknowledgment emails, 10 during the relevant time period showing the content and presentation of the ARL disclosures, and 11 Defendant's current and historical Terms of Sale and Terms of Service, which recap the ARL terms 12 and other relevant provisions related to subscriptions. Id. ¶ 12. The Parties participated in two 13 mediation sessions Ms. Sperber, which were both conducted by Zoom. Id. ¶ 13. The first session 14 took place on March 16, 2021, and lasted approximately nine hours. Id. The parties promptly 15 arranged for a second mediation session which took place on March 25, 2021, and lasted nearly six 16 hours. Id. During the second mediation session, the Parties reached an agreement to settle the 17 case. Id. The Parties engaged in good faith negotiations, which at all times were at arms' length 18 and which culminated in an agreement to settle the case. Id. ¶ 20; see also id. ¶¶ 13-18.

19 III. THE STANDARD FOR PRELIMINARY APPROVAL OF CLASS ACTION 20 SETTLEMENTS

21 The law favors compromise and settlement of class action suits. See Ferrell v. Buckingham 22 Prop. Mgmt., 2021 WL 488314, at *3 (E.D. Cal. Feb. 10, 2021) (slip op.) (“The Ninth Circuit has 23 repeatedly affirmed that a strong judicial policy favors settlement of class actions.”) (citing Allen v.
24 Bedolla, 787 F.3d 1218, 1223 (9th Cir. 2015)).<sup>2</sup> Ultimately, the approval of a proposed class action

25 <sup>2</sup> See also In re Syncor ERISA Litig., 516 F.3d 1095, 1101 (9th Cir. 2008); Class Plaintiffs v. City 26 of Seattle, 955 F.2d 1268, 1276 (9th Cir. 1992) (acknowledging the “strong judicial policy that 27 favors settlements, particularly where complex class action litigation is concerned”); In re Hewlett- 28 Packard Co. S’holder Derivative Litig., 2014 WL 7240144, at *4 (N.D. Cal. Dec. 19, 2014); Boyd
v. Bechtel Corp., 485 F. Supp. 610, 617 (N.D. Cal. 1979) (Orrick, J.) (“[T]he court should remain cognizant of the overriding public interest in settling large class actions[.]”); Alba Conte & Herbert B. Newberg, Newberg on Class Actions (“Newberg”), § 11.41 (4th ed. 2002) (“The compromise of complex litigation is encouraged by the courts and favored by public policy.”).

1 settlement is left to the discretion of the trial court. See Rothfarb v. Hambrecht, 649 F. Supp. 183, 2 237 (N.D. Cal. 1986) (Orrick, J.) (“The fee award is left to the discretion of the trial court.”).

3 Approval of class action settlements involves a two-step process. First, the Court must 4 make a preliminary determination whether the proposed settlement appears to be fair and is “within 5 the range of possible approval.” In re Syncor ERISA Litig., 516 F.3d 1095, 1100 (9th Cir. 2008); In 6 re Tableware Antitrust Litig., 484 F. Supp. 2d 1078, 1079 (N.D. Cal. 2007); Alaniz v. California
7 Processors, Inc., 73 F.R.D. 269, 273 (N.D. Cal. 1976), cert. denied sub nom. Beaver v. Alaniz, 439
8 U.S. 837 (1978).<sup>3</sup> This first step in the settlement process allows notice to issue to the class and for 9 class members to object or opt-out of the settlement. After the notice period, the Court will be able 10 to evaluate the settlement with the benefit of the class members’ input.

11 The purpose of a preliminary approval hearing is to ascertain whether there is any reason to 12 notify the putative class members of the proposed settlement and to proceed with a fairness
13 hearing. See In re Tableware Antitrust Litig., 484 F. Supp. 2d at 1079. Notice of a settlement 14 should be disseminated where “the proposed settlement appears to be the product of serious, 15 informed, non-collusive negotiations, has no obvious deficiencies, does not improperly grant 16 preferential treatment to class representatives or segments of the class, and falls within the range of 17 possible approval.” Id. (emphasis added) (internal quotation marks omitted) (quoting Manual for 18 Complex Litigation, Second § 30.44 (1985)). Preliminary approval does not require an answer to 19 the ultimate question of whether the proposed settlement is fair and adequate, because that 20 determination occurs only after notice of the settlement has been given to the members of the 21 settlement class. See id. Nevertheless, a review of the standards applied in determining whether a 22 settlement should be given final approval is helpful to the determination of preliminary approval.
23 One such standard is the strong judicial policy of encouraging compromises, particularly in class
24 actions. See In re Syncor, 516 F.3d at 1101 (citing Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm’n, 688 25 F.2d 615 (9th Cir. 1982), cert. denied, 459 U.S. 1217 (1983)). While the Court has discretion 26 regarding the approval of a proposed settlement, it should give “proper deference to the private

27 _____
28 <sup>3</sup> If so, notice can be sent to class members and the Court can schedule a final approval hearing where a more in-depth review of the settlement terms will take place. See Manual for Complex
Litigation, § 21.312 at 293-96 (4th ed. 2004).

1 consensual decision of the parties.” Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1027 (9th Cir.
 2 1998). In fact, when a settlement is negotiated at arm’s-length by experienced counsel, there is a 3 presumption that it is fair and reasonable. See In re Pac. Enters. Sec. Litig., 47 F.3d 373, 378 (9th
 4 Cir. 1995); Carlotti v. ASUS Computer Int’l, 2019 WL 6134910, at *6 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 19, 2019)
 5 (“Class settlements are presumed fair when they are reached ‘following sufficient discovery and 6 genuine arms-length negotiation.’”) (citations omitted). Ultimately, the Court’s role is to ensure 7 that the settlement is fundamentally fair, reasonable and adequate. Id., 2019 WL 6134910, at *3.

8 Beyond the public policy favoring settlements, the principal consideration in evaluating the 9 fairness and adequacy of a proposed settlement is the likelihood of recovery balanced against the 10 benefits of settlement. “[B]asic to this process in every instance, of course, is the need to compare 11 the terms of the compromise with the likely rewards of litigation.” Protective Committee for 12 Independent Stockholders of TMT Trailer Ferry, Inc. v. Anderson, 390 U.S. 414, 424-25 (1968).
 13 That said, courts give “proper deference to the private consensual decision of the parties.” Hanlon, 14 150 F.3d at 1027. Indeed, “the court’s intrusion upon what is otherwise a private consensual 15 agreement negotiated between the parties to a lawsuit must be limited to the extent necessary to 16 reach a reasoned judgment that the agreement is not the product of fraud or overreaching by, or 17 collusion between, the negotiating parties, and that the settlement, taken as a whole, is fair, 18 reasonable and adequate to all concerned.” Knapp v. Art.com, Inc., 283 F. Supp. 3d 823, 830 (N.D.
 19 Cal. 2017) (Orrick, J.) (quoting Officers for Justice, 688 F.2d at 625); see also id. (“[I]t must not be 20 overlooked that voluntary conciliation and settlement are the preferred means of dispute resolution.
 21 This is especially true in complex class action litigation.”) (internal quotation marks omitted); 22 accord Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2) (settlement must be “fair, reasonable, and adequate”).

23 IV. TERMS OF THE PROPOSED SETTLEMENT

24 The key terms of the Settlement are briefly summarized as follows:

25 A. Class Definition

26 The proposed Class consists of “all persons who, from July 29, 2016, to and through April 27 1, 2021, enrolled in an automatically renewing WaPo Subscription using a California billing 28 address and who, during that time period, were charged and paid one or more automatic renewal

1 fees in connection with such subscription.” Settlement ¶ 1.46. Excluded from the Class are: (1) 2 any Judge or Magistrate presiding over this Action and members of their families, (2) Defendant 3 and any subsidiaries or affiliated entities, (3) persons who properly submit a timely request for 4 exclusion, and (4) any legal representatives, successors, or assigns of any excluded persons. Id.

5 B. Monetary And In-Kind Relief For Class Members

6 The Settlement consists of cash and non-cash benefits and has a total value of 7 approximately $6,762,480. Id. ¶ 1.49. WaPo will establish a non-reversionary cash Settlement
 8 Fund of $2,400,000.00 USD, which will be used to pay all approved claims by class members, 9 notice and administration expenses, a Court-approved incentive award to Plaintiff, and attorneys’ 10 fees to proposed Class Counsel to the extent awarded by the Court. Id. ¶ 1.48. WaPo will also 11 automatically provide over $4,362,480 worth of Automatic Account Credit Codes to Class 12 Members who do nothing during the claims process. Id. ¶¶ 1.8, 2.2.

13 Class Members are entitled to the following relief:

- 14 • Class Members with Active Annual WaPo Subscriptions will be entitled to receive 15 either an Automatic Account Credit Code for eight (8) weeks of free subscription 16 services (valued at $20), or, if they file a valid claim, a pro rata cash payment from 17 the Settlement Fund (which the Parties estimate to be $20 per Active Annual Class 18 Member, based on the expected claims rate). Id. ¶ 2.2(a).
- 19 • Class Members with Active Four-Week WaPo Subscriptions will be entitled to 20 receive either an Automatic Account Credit Code for four (4) weeks of free 21 subscription services (valued at $10), or, if they file a valid claim, a pro rata cash 22 payment from the Settlement Fund (which the Parties estimate to be $10 per Active 23 Four-Week Class Member, based on the expected claims rate). Id. ¶ 2.2(b).
- 24 • Class members with Inactive Annual WaPo Subscriptions will be entitled to 25 receive either an Automatic Account Credit Code for eight (8) weeks of a free
 26 Washington Post premium digital subscription (valued at $20), or, if they file a
 27 valid claim, a pro rata cash payment from the Settlement Fund (which the Parties 28 estimate to be $20 per Inactive Annual Class Member, based on the expected claims rate). Id. ¶ 2.2(c).
- Class members with Inactive Four-Week WaPo Subscriptions will be entitled to receive either an Automatic Account Credit Code for four (4) weeks of a free Washington Post premium digital subscription (valued at $10), or, if they file a
 valid claim, a pro rata cash payment from the Settlement Fund (which the Parties estimate to be $10 per Inactive Four-Week Class Member, based on the expected claims rate). Id. ¶ 2.2(d).

Settlement Class Members wishing to receive cash must make an election to receive cash by

1 submitting a valid Claim Form to the Settlement Administrator by the Claims Deadline. Id.

2 ¶ 2.2(f). Settlement Class Members who do not submit a valid Claim Form electing to receive cash
3 will receive an Automatic Account Credit Code as described above, based on whether the Class
4 Member's WaPo Subscription was active or inactive as of April 1, 2021, and whether the Class 5 Member's WaPo Subscription is deemed an Active Annual, Active Four-Week, Inactive Annual, 6 or Inactive Four-Week subscriber. Id. ¶ 2.2(e). In all cases, no payment or billing information will 7 be required for an Inactive Class Member to use the Automatic Account Credit Code, which will 8 be issued to Class Members via email by the Settlement Administrator, will not expire, and may be 9 freely transferred. Id. If an Active Class Member whose WaPo Subscription was purchased on or 10 through a third-party platform or service (the Apple App Store, the Google Play Store, or Amazon)
11 is unable to redeem an Automatic Account Credit Code, WaPo may provide that Active Class 12 Member with substitute compensation of equal value. Id.

13 C. Injunctive Relief

14 WaPo has agreed to provide automatic renewal terms on its checkout pages in a manner 15 that is consistent with the requirements of Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17600, et seq. Specifically, 16 WaPo has agreed to present to California subscribers on the checkout page for any WaPo 17 Subscription that will automatically renew, the automatic renewal offer terms associated with such 18 subscription (including by when a user must cancel) in a clear and conspicuous manner before the 19 subscription or purchasing agreement and in visual proximity to the request for consent to the offer.
20 WaPo has also agreed to obtain affirmative consent to the agreement containing the automatic 21 renewal terms in a manner that complies with the ARL. WaPo has further agreed to disclose, in a 22 manner that complies with the ARL, how to cancel and by when in an acknowledgment email that 23 California consumers can retain. Additionally, WaPo has agreed to provide California subscribers 24 enrolled in an active annual WaPo Subscription (as of the execution of the Settlement Agreement)
25 who have not yet renewed as of 60 days after the execution of the Settlement Agreement with a 26 one-time additional acknowledgement email at least 30 days before their next renewal date that 27 provides those subscribers with notice that their subscription will renew and includes a clear link to 28 directions on how to cancel that subscription. WaPo also agreed to provide California subscribers

1 enrolled in an active four-week WaPo Subscription (as of 30 days after the execution of the 2 Settlement Agreement) who have not yet renewed as of 60 days after the execution of the 3 Settlement Agreement with a one-time additional acknowledgement email at least 7 days before 4 their next renewal date that provides those subscribers with notice that their subscription will renew 5 and includes a clear link to directions on how to cancel that subscription. See Settlement ¶ 2.3.

6 D. Release

7 In exchange for the relief described above, Defendant and each of its related and affiliated 8 entities as well as all “Released Parties” as defined at ¶ 1.42 of the Settlement will receive a full 9 release of all claims arising out of or related to or arising from Defendant’s automatic renewal
10 and/or continuous service programs in California from July 29, 2016 to April 1, 2021. See id. ¶¶ 11 3.1-3.2 for full release language.

12 E. Incentive Award

13 In recognition for her efforts on behalf of the Settlement Class, subject to Court approval, 14 Defendant has agreed to pay Plaintiff Jordan an incentive award of up to $5,000 from the 15 Settlement Fund as appropriate compensation for her time and effort serving as Class 16 Representative and as a party to the Action. Plaintiff has spent substantial time on this action, has 17 assisted with the investigation of this action and the drafting of the complaint, has been in contact 18 with counsel frequently, and has stayed informed of the status of the action, including settlement.
19 Defendant will not oppose any request up to this amount. Id. ¶ 8.3.

20 F. Attorneys’ Fees And Expenses

21 Defendant has agreed that the Settlement Fund may also be used to pay Class Counsel
22 reasonable attorneys’ fees and to reimburse expenses in this Action, in an amount to be approved 23 by the Court. Id. ¶ 8.1. Plaintiff will petition the Court for an award of attorneys’ fees, costs, and 24 expenses not to exceed $2,000,000.00. Id. Defendant agrees to not object to or otherwise 25 challenge, directly or indirectly, Plaintiff’s counsel’s petition for attorneys’ fees, costs, and 26 expenses if limited to this amount.

27 G. Notice And Administrative Expenses

28 The Settlement Fund will be used to pay the cost of Notice set forth in the Agreement and 1 any other notice as required by the Court, as well as all other costs of settlement administration.

 2 See id. ¶¶ 1.30, 1.32-1.33, 1.44, 1.48. The Parties have selected JND Legal Administration
 3 (“JND”) to act as the Settlement Administrator. JND will implement the Settlement and Notice
 4 Plan agreed to by the Parties. The Parties selected the Settlement Administrator after Plaintiff 5 solicited a bid from JND, which estimated that its notice program would have 98 percent reach, and 6 that the cost of its implementation would be $113,102. See Klorczyk Decl. ¶ 23.

7 V. THE COURT SHOULD GRANT PRELIMINARY APPROVAL BECAUSE THE 8 PROPOSED SETTLEMENT IS FAIR, ADEQUATE, AND REASONABLE

9 Rule 23(e)(2) provides that “the court may approve [a proposed class action settlement] 10 only after a hearing and on finding that it is fair, reasonable, and adequate.” Fed. R. Civ. P.
 11 23(e)(2). When making this determination, the Ninth Circuit has instructed district courts to 12 balance several factors: (1) “the strength of the plaintiff’s case;” (2) “the risk, expense, 13 complexity, and likely duration of further litigation;” (3) “the risk of maintaining class action status 14 throughout the trial;” (4) “the amount offered in settlement;” and (5) “the extent of discovery 15 completed and the stage of the proceedings.”<sup>4</sup> Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1026; see also Churchill Vill.,
 16 L.L.C. v. Gen. Elec., 361 F. 3d 566 (9th Cir. 2004) (same); Pena v. Taylor Farms Pac., Inc., 2021
 17 WL 916257, at *3 (E.D. Cal. Mar. 10, 2021) (same); Carter v. XPO Logistics, Inc., 2019 WL 18 5295125, at *2 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 18, 2019) (Orrick, J.) (same).

19 In addition to these factors, courts should also consider the four enumerated factors in 20 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure Rule 23(e)(2), which include whether: (A) the class representatives
 21 and class counsel have adequately represented the class; (B) the proposal was negotiated at arm’s 22 length; (C) the relief provided for the class is adequate, taking into account (i) the costs, risks, and 23 delay of trial and appeal, (ii) the effectiveness of any proposed method of distributing relief to the 24 class, including the method of processing class-member claims, (iii) the terms of any proposed 25 award of attorney’s fees, including timing of payment, and (iv) any agreement required to be 26 identified under Rule 23(e)(3); and (D) the proposal treats class members equitably relative to each

27 _____
 28 <sup>4</sup> In Hanlon, the Ninth Circuit also instructed district courts to consider “the reaction of the class members to the proposed settlement.” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1026. This consideration is more germane to final approval and will be addressed at that time.

1 other. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2). There is significant overlap between the Rule 23(e)(2) and Hanlon 2 factors, which complement, rather than displace each other.

3 A. The Hanlon Factors

4 1. Strength of Plaintiff's Case

5 In determining the likelihood of a plaintiff's success on the merits of a class action, "the 6 district court's determination is nothing more than an amalgam of delicate balancing, gross
 7 approximations and rough justice." Officers for Justice, 688 F.2d at 625 (internal quotation marks
 8 omitted). The court may "presume that through negotiation, the Parties, counsel, and mediator 9 arrived at a reasonable range of settlement by considering Plaintiff's likelihood of recovery."
 10 Garner v. State Farm. Mut. Auto. Ins. Co., 2010 WL 1687832, at *9 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 22, 2010)
 11 (citing Rodriguez v. West Publ'g Corp., 563 F.3d 948, 965 (9th Cir. 2009)).

12 Here, Class Counsel became thoroughly familiar with the applicable facts, legal theories, 13 and defenses on both sides before engaging in arms-length negotiations with Defendant's counsel.
 14 See Klorczyk Decl. ¶¶ 12-13, 20. Although Plaintiff and Class Counsel had confidence in their 15 claims, they recognize that a favorable outcome was not assured and that they would face risks at 16 class certification, summary judgment, and trial. Id. ¶¶ 21-22. Defendant vigorously denies 17 Plaintiff's allegations and asserts that neither Plaintiff nor the Class suffered any harm or damages.
 18 In addition, Defendant would no doubt present a vigorous defense at trial, and there is no assurance 19 that the Class would prevail – or even if they did, that they would be able to obtain an award of 20 damages significantly more than achieved here absent such risks. The Settlement abrogates these 21 risks to Plaintiff and the Class. See Rodriguez, 563 F.3d at 965-66 ("[O]ne factor 'that may bear on 22 review of a settlement' is 'the advantages of the proposed settlement versus the probable outcome 23 of a trial on the merits of liability and damages as to the claims, issues, or defenses of the class and 24 individual class members[.]'" (citing Federal Judicial Center, Manual for Complex Litigation § 25 21.62, at 316 (4th ed. 2004)). Thus, in the eyes of Class Counsel, the proposed Settlement provides 26 the Class with an outstanding opportunity to obtain significant relief at this stage in the litigation.

27 2. Risk of Continuing Litigation

28 Next, approval of the proposed settlement is appropriate given the risks associated with

1 continued litigation. By reaching a favorable settlement now, Plaintiff seeks to avoid significant 2 expense and delay, and instead ensure recovery for the class. “Generally, ‘unless the settlement is 3 clearly inadequate, its acceptance and approval are preferable to lengthy and expensive litigation
4 with uncertain results.’” Larsen v. Trader Joe’s Co., 2014 WL 3404531, at *4 (N.D. Cal. July 11, 5 2014) (Orrick, J.) (quoting Nat’l Rural Telecommunications Coop. v. DIRECTV, Inc., 221 F.R.D.
6 523, 526 (C.D. Cal. 2004)) (internal quotation marks omitted). “Moreover, settlement is favored 7 where, as here, significant procedural hurdles remain, including class certification and an 8 anticipated appeal.” Id. (citing Rodriguez, 563 F.3d at 966).

9 As discussed above, the Parties engaged in informal written discovery prior to mediation.
10 Klorczyk Decl. ¶ 12. The next steps in the litigation would have been for Plaintiff to oppose 11 Defendant’s Motion to Dismiss and resolution of the Motion by the Court, the start of discovery, 12 including Party depositions, substantial document discovery, and contested motions for summary 13 judgment and class certification, which would be at minimum costly and time-consuming for the 14 Parties and the Court and create risk that a litigation class would not be certified and/or that the 15 Settlement Class would recover nothing at all. See Settlement ¶¶ J-K. For example, Plaintiff is 16 aware that Defendant would continue to assert defenses on the merits, including that Plaintiff’s 17 allegations are insufficient under Fed. R. Civ. P. 8 and 12(b)(6) because, according to Defendant, it 18 provided all of the requisite pre-purchase disclosures under the ARL, presented them in a clear and 19 conspicuous manner, and obtained Plaintiff’s affirmative consent to the automatically renewing 20 subscription, and any alleged omissions in the post-purchase subscription acknowledgment sent to 21 Plaintiff do not rise to the level of fraud or negligent misrepresentation. Defendant would also 22 challenge Plaintiff’s standing under California’s consumer protection statutes, including Plaintiff’s 23 ability to show that Defendant’s conduct caused Plaintiff economic injury. Plaintiff and Class 24 Counsel are also aware that Defendant would oppose class certification vigorously, including 25 because Defendant would contend that Plaintiff is not entitled to bring at least some of her claims 26 on a class-wide basis and that Plaintiff cannot present a workable damages model. Plaintiff and 27 Class Counsel further understand that Defendant would prepare a competent defense at trial. Even 28 assuming that Plaintiff were to survive summary judgment, she would likely face the risk of

1 establishing liability at trial as a result of conflicting expert testimony between her own expert
2 witnesses and Defendant's expert witnesses. In this "battle of experts," it is virtually impossible to 3 predict with any certainty which testimony would be credited, and ultimately, which expert version 4 would be accepted by the jury. The experience of Class Counsel has taught them that these 5 considerations can make the ultimate outcome of a trial highly uncertain. Additionally, looking 6 beyond trial, WaPo could appeal the merits of any adverse decision. Even if Plaintiff were to 7 prevail at every stage of this litigation, there remains a substantial likelihood that Class Members 8 would not be awarded significantly more than (or even as much as) is offered to them under this 9 Settlement. See, e.g., In re Apple Computer Sec. Litig., 1991 WL 238298, at *1 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 6, 10 1991) (overturning jury verdict for plaintiffs awarding over $100 million in damages, entering 11 judgment in favor of individual defendants, and ordering new trial for corporate defendant).

12 In sum, "[i]n the absence of settlement now, the parties would incur significant additional 13 costs in discovery, including depositions, ... a survey of [defendant's] customers regarding the 14 materiality of the alleged misrepresentations, and expert discovery." Larsen, 2014 WL 3404531, at 15 *4 (Orrick, J.). The Settlement, on the other hand, permits a prompt resolution of this action on 16 terms that are fair, reasonable and adequate to the Class. This result will be accomplished years 17 earlier than if the case proceeded to judgment through trial and/or appeals, and provides certainty.
18 "Accordingly, the high risk, expense, and complex nature of the case weigh in favor of approving 19 the settlement." Id. (citing Rodriguez, 563 F.3d at 964).

20 3. Risk of Maintaining Class Action Status

21 In addition to the risks of continuing the litigation, Plaintiff would also face risks in 22 certifying a class and maintaining class status through trial. The Court has not yet certified the 23 proposed Class and the Parties anticipate that such a determination would be reached only after 24 decision on Defendant's Motion to Dismiss, after discovery is completed, and after exhaustive 25 class certification briefing is filed. Moreover, even assuming that the Court were to grant a motion 26 for class certification, the class could still be decertified at any time. See In re Netflix Privacy 27 Litig., 2013 WL 1120801, at *6 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 18, 2013) ("The notion that a district court could 28 decertify a class at any time is one that weighs in favor of settlement.") (internal citations omitted).

1 From their prior experience, Class Counsel anticipates that, should the Court certify the class, 2 Defendant may appeal the Court’s decision through a Rule 23(f) petition and subsequently move to 3 decertify, forcing additional rounds of briefing. Risk, expense, and delay permeate such a process.
 4 “[C]onsummating this Settlement promptly in order to provide effective relief to Plaintiff and the 5 Class” eliminates these risks by ensuring Class Members a recovery that is certain and immediate.
 6 Johnson v. Triple Leaf Tea Inc., 2015 WL 8943150, at *4 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 16, 2015). The 7 Settlement eliminates these risks, expenses, and delay.

8 4. The Amount Offered In Settlement

9 The determination of “the fairness, adequacy, and reasonableness of the amount offered in 10 settlement is not a matter of applying a ‘particular formula.’” Knapp, 283 F. Supp. 3d at 832
 11 (Orrick, J.) (citing Rodriguez, 563 F.3d at 965). Instead, the Court’s analysis of whether a 12 settlement amount is reasonable is “an amalgam of delicate balancing, gross approximations, and 13 rough justice.” Id. In assessing the consideration available to Class Members in a proposed 14 Settlement, “[i]t is the complete package taken as a whole, rather than the individual component 15 parts, that must be examined for overall fairness.” DIRECTV, Inc., 221 F.R.D. at 527 (quoting 16 Officers for Justice, 688 F.2d at 628). Because a settlement provides certain and immediate 17 recovery, courts often approve settlements even where the benefits obtained as a result of the 18 settlement are less than those originally sought. Indeed, “it is well-settled law that a proposed 19 settlement may be acceptable even though it amounts to only a fraction of the potential recovery 20 that might be available to the class members at trial.” Id. (citing Linney v. Cellular Alaska P’ship, 21 151 F.3d 1234, 1242 (9th Cir. 1998)).<sup>5</sup>

22 _____
 23 <sup>5</sup> In Plaintiff’s operative complaint, the damages sought are alleged to be the full amount of 24 renewal charges charged to California Class Members’ payment methods during the Class Period.
 25 See FAC ¶¶ 3-4. The proposed Settlement Class includes approximately 321,671 persons who 26 enrolled in and were charged renewal fees in connection with the WaPo Subscriptions during the 27 Class Period. Klorczyk Decl. ¶ 14. The amount charged to each Class Member per renewal period 28 varied by the type of subscription—$10.00 per month for Basic Four-Week WaPo Subscribers, $15.00 per month for Premium Four-Week WaPo Subscribers, $100 per month for Basic Annual WaPo Subscribers, and $150 per month for Premium Annual WaPo Subscribers. See <https://subscribe.washingtonpost.com/checkout>. Assuming WaPo’s subscriber base is evenly split between Basic Four-Week, Premium Four-Week, Basic Annual, and Premium Annual WaPo Subscribers, and that each Class Member’s WaPo Subscription was automatically renewed once during the Class Period at the full standard rate associated with the Class Members’ WaPo

1 In this case, the total value of the proposed Settlement is $6,762,480, consisting of cash and 2 in-kind relief. Settlement ¶ 1.49. Settlement Class Members that submit a valid Claim Form to the 3 Settlement Administrator are eligible to receive a pro rata cash payment from the $2,400,000 non-4 reversionary Settlement Fund, which the Parties estimate will be $20 per Annual Class Member 5 and $10 per Four-Week Class Member, based an expected claims rate of 5%.<sup>6</sup> Id. ¶¶ 2.2(a)(2), 6 (b)(2), (c)(2), (d)(2), (f). Settlement Class Members who neither submit a valid Claim Form nor 7 opt-out of the settlement will be automatically provided with an Automatic Account Credit Code
 8 for up to eight (8) weeks of free subscription services. Id. ¶¶ 2.2(a)(1), (b)(1), (c)(1), (d)(1), (e).
 9 Specifically, Annual Class Members who do nothing will receive an Automatic Account Credit
 10 Code for up to eight (8) weeks of free WaPo Subscription services (valued at $20), see id. ¶¶
 11 2.2(a)(1), (c)(1), and Four-Week Class Members who do nothing will receive an Automatic 12 Account Credit Code for up to four (4) weeks of free WaPo Subscription services (valued at $10), 13 see id. ¶¶ 2.2(b)(1), (d)(1). In all cases, the Codes will not expire and may be freely transferred.
 14 See Settlement ¶¶ 1.8, 2.2(e). The Automatic Account Credit Codes therefore provide Class
 15 Members with a real and substantial dollar value. See Knapp, 283 F. Supp. 3d at 833 (Orrick, J.)
 16 (“[C]lass members who choose to use their voucher have the opportunity to realize a $10 value.”); 17 cf. In re HP Inkjet Printer Litig., 716 F.3d 1173, 1179 (9th Cir. 2013) (noting that in-kind relief “is 18 likely to provide less value to class members if[ the non-monetary benefits] ... are non-19 transferable, expire soon after their issuance, and cannot be aggregated”). In addition, Defendant 20 has agreed to provide injunctive relief, and to pay the costs of notice, administration, and 21 reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs for Class Counsel from the all-in fund established by the 22 Settlement. Settlement ¶ 2.3; see also Knapp, 283 F. Supp. 3d at 833 (“The Settlement Agreement 23

24 _____
 25 Subscriptions, Defendant’s total exposure would be approximately $22,114,884.25. If each Class 26 Member’s WaPo Subscription renewed multiple times, the estimated total exposure would be 27 greater. However, Plaintiff’s and Class Members’ entitlement to relief in that amount is not 28 certain, and they would be unlikely to fully prevail for the reasons discussed above. See supra §§
 V.A(2)-(3).

<sup>6</sup>As cy pres, funds for checks not cashed within 180 days of issuance shall revert to the Legal Aid
 Association of California, a 501(c)(3) entity, or, if it is unable to receive these funds, another
 California-based, non-sectarian, not-for-profit organization(s) with a similar mission recommended by Class Counsel and Defendant, and approved by the Court. Settlement ¶¶ 2.2(i), 5.8.

1 also provides for injunctive relief, so class members that choose to continue doing business with 2 Art.com will benefit from this aspect as well.”).

3 Moreover, in judging the adequacy of this Settlement, it is appropriate to compare the relief
4 offered here to settlements in other ARL matters. Viewed in this light, the relief offered under this 5 Settlement plainly meets or exceeds settlements in other ARL matters. For example, the Southern 6 District of New York recently granted preliminary approval to a similar class-wide settlement 7 under California’s ARL, negotiated by the same proposed Class Counsel, in Moses v. The New 8 York Times Company, No. 1:20-cv-04658-RA (S.D.N.Y.). See Klorczyk Decl. ¶ 19; see also id.
9 Ex. 4, Plaintiff’s Unopposed Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement in Moses 10 v. The New York Times Company, No. 1:20-cv-04658-RA (S.D.N.Y.) (ECF No. 42) (“Moses 11 Preliminary Approval Brief”). Under the terms that settlement, the defendant agreed to 12 “automatically provide over $3,900,000 worth of access codes ... to Class Members who do 13 nothing during the claims process,” and to “establish a non-reversionary $1,650,000 cash 14 Settlement Fund which will be used to pay all approved claims by class members.” Klorczyk Decl.
15 ¶ 19; id. Ex. 4, Moses Preliminary Approval Brief at 1. Thus, the total value of the Moses
16 settlement was approximately $5,563,000, with a class of approximately 855,166 California 17 subscribers. Id. The Moses court granted preliminary approval on May 12, 2021, and the final 18 approval hearing is set for September 10, 2021. See Klorczyk Decl. Ex. 5, Order Granting 19 Preliminary Approval in Moses v. The New York Times Company, No. 1:20-cv-04658-RA 20 (S.D.N.Y.) (ECF No. 43) (“Moses Preliminary Approval Order”).

21 The proposed Settlement here distributes more cash and more credits to fewer persons than 22 the Moses settlement, ultimately resulting in significantly more relief per Class Member. See supra 23 at 15 (“Settlement Class Members that submit a valid Claim Form ... are eligible to receive a pro
24 rata cash payment ..., which the Parties estimate will be $20 per Annual Class Member and $10 25 per Four-Week Class Member[.]”) (emphasis added); cf. Klorczyk Decl. Ex. 4, Moses Preliminary 26 Approval Brief at 14 (estimating a pro rata cash payment from the Settlement Fund of “$5.00 per 27 Class Member[.]”) (emphasis added). Thus, if the Moses settlement can be said to “provide[] 28 substantial relief to the Settlement Class[,]” (and it has been, see Klorczyk Decl. Ex. 4, Moses

1 Preliminary Approval Order ¶ 3), then the proposed Settlement, which provides more value to class 2 members, does so as well.

3 Weighing the benefits of the Settlement against the risks associated with proceeding in 4 litigation and in collecting on any judgment, the proposed Settlement is more than reasonable. See 5 Carter, 2019 WL 5295125, at *3 (Orrick, J.) (“The amount of the settlement is fair, adequate and 6 reasonable given the risks of continued litigation.”).

7 5. The Extent Of Discovery

8 Under this factor, courts evaluate whether Class Counsel had sufficient information to make 9 an informed decision about the merits of the case. See In re Mego Fin. Corp. Sec. Litig., 213 F.3d 10 454, 459 (9th Cir. 2000). Plaintiff, by and through her counsel, has conducted extensive research, 11 discovery, and investigation during the prosecution of the Action, including, without limitation, 12 through: (i) review of documents produced by Defendant through informal discovery; (ii) the 13 review of other publicly available reports and tests concerning the WaPo Subscriptions; and (iii) 14 review of publicly available information regarding Defendant, its business practices, and prior 15 litigation involving it. See Klorczyk Decl. ¶ 12. The parties also held numerous telephonic and 16 written discussions regarding Plaintiff’s allegations, discovery, and the prospects of settlement, as 17 well as two mediation sessions with Jill Sperber of Judicate West. Id. ¶¶ 6, 10-13. Thus, the 18 proposed Settlement is the result of fully-informed negotiations.

19 6. Experience And Views Of Counsel

20 “The recommendations of plaintiffs’ counsel should be given a presumption of 21 reasonableness.” Boyd v. Bechtel Corp. [hereinafter Betchel Corp.], 485 F. Supp. 610, 622 (N.D.
22 Cal. 1979) (Orrick, J.); see also In re Omnivision Techs., Inc., 559 F. Supp. 2d 1036, 1043 (N.D.
23 Cal. 2008) (same). Deference to Class Counsel’s evaluation of the Settlement is appropriate 24 because “[a]ttorneys, having an intimate familiarity with a lawsuit after spending years in 25 litigation, are in the best position to evaluate the action, and the Court should not without good 26 cause substitute its judgment for theirs.” Betchel Corp., 485 F. Supp. at 622; see also Rodriguez, 27 563 F.3d at 967 (“Parties represented by competent counsel are better positioned than courts to 28 produce a settlement that fairly reflects each party’s expected outcome in litigation.”). Here, the

1 Settlement was negotiated by counsel with extensive experience in consumer class action litigation.
2 See Klorczyk Decl. Ex. 2, Firm Resume of Bursor & Fisher, P.A. Based on their experience, Class 3 Counsel concluded that the Settlement provides exceptional results for the Class while sparing the 4 Class from the uncertainties of continued and protracted litigation.

5 B. The Rule 23(e)(2) Factors

6 1. The Class Representative And Class Counsel Have 7 Adequately Represented The Class (Rule 23(e)(2)(A))

8 As is discussed further below, Plaintiff's interests here are aligned with other class
9 members' interests because she claims she suffered the same injuries: paying a fee to Defendant 10 due to its automatic renewal scheme. Because Plaintiff and the Class suffered these alleged 11 injuries as a result of Defendant's common course of conduct, Plaintiff has an interest in vigorously 12 pursuing the claims of the class. Further, as is briefly mentioned above and elaborated upon below, 13 numerous other courts in this Circuit have previously found that Plaintiff's attorneys adequately 14 meet the obligations and responsibilities of Class Counsel. See Klorczyk Decl. Ex. 2, Firm 15 Resume of Bursor & Fisher, P.A.; see also id. Ex. 3, Preliminary Approval Hearing Transcript in 16 Russett, et al. v. The Northwestern Mutual Life Ins. Co., Case No. 19-cv-07414-KMK (S.D.N.Y.)
17 ("NWM Hearing Tr.") at 21:1-4 ("[Bursor & Fisher, P.A.] has extensive experience in litigating 18 precisely these types of actions, and that's why they've been appointed in numerous cases to be 19 lead counsel."). This factor thus favors preliminary approval.

20 2. The Settlement Was Negotiated At Arm's Length

21 In preliminarily evaluating the adequacy of a proposed settlement under Rule 23(e)(2), 22 particular attention should be paid to the process of settlement negotiations. When a class 23 settlement is reached through arm's-length negotiations between experienced, capable counsel 24 knowledgeable in complex class litigation, there is a presumption that the settlement is fair and 25 reasonable. See In re Pac. Enters. Sec. Litig., 47 F.3d at 378; Garner, 2010 WL 1687832, at *9.
26 Ultimately, the Court's role is to ensure that the settlement is fundamentally fair, reasonable and 27 adequate. See In re Syncor, 516 F.3d at 1100.

28 Here, counsel for both Plaintiff and Defendant are experienced in class action litigation,

1 engaged in protracted settlement discussions, and reached this settlement with the assistance of an 2 experienced neutral. Klorczyk Decl. ¶¶ 11-13, 19. In other words, the negotiations were 3 conducted at arm’s length, non-collusive, well-informed (in that they were conducted after an 4 assessment of the strengths and weaknesses of the claims on both sides), conducted between 5 counsel on both sides with decades of class action experience, and utilized at the appropriate time 6 the assistance of a well-respected mediator. Under such circumstances, the proposed Settlement is 7 entitled to a presumption of reasonableness, and the Court is entitled to rely upon counsel’s 8 opinions and assessments. See Perks v. Activehours, Inc., 2021 WL 1146038, at *5 (N.D. Cal.
9 Mar. 25, 2021) (“[T]he Court found that Class Counsel have substantial experience in litigating and 10 settling consumer class actions. Despite the relatively early stage of the litigation, Class Counsel 11 obtained sufficient information to make an informed decision about the Settlement and about the 12 legal and factual risks of the case. ... The Settlement was also the product of arm’s-length 13 negotiations through mediation sessions and follow-up communications supervised by [an 14 experienced neutral]. There is no indication of any collusion between the parties.”); Boyd v.
15 Avanquest N. Am. Inc [hereinafter Avanquest], 2015 WL 4396137, at *3 (N.D. Cal. July 17, 2015)
16 (Orrick, J.) (“[U]se of mediator ‘tends to support the conclusion that the settlement process was not 17 collusive.’”) (quoting Villegas v. J.P. Morgan Chase & Co., 2012 WL 5878390, at *6 (N.D. Cal.
18 Nov. 21, 2012)); Bechtel Corp., 485 F. Supp. at 622-25 (Orrick, J.). Accordingly, the second Rule 19 23(e)(2) factor has been met.

20 3. The Settlement Provides Adequate Relief To The Class

21 Whether relief is adequate takes into account: “(i) the costs, risks, and delay of trial and 22 appeal; (ii) the effectiveness of any proposed method of distributing relief to the class, including 23 the method of processing class-member claims, if required; (iii) the terms of any proposed award of 24 attorney’s fees, including timing of payment; and (iv) any agreement required to be identified 25 under Rule 23(e)(3).” Rule 23(e)(2)(C)(i-iv). These factors subsume several Hanlon factors 26 including: “the risk, expense, complexity, and likely duration of further litigation” (Hanlon Factor 27 2); “the risk of maintaining class action status throughout the trial” (Hanlon Factor 3); and “the 28 amount offered in settlement” (Hanlon Factor 4). As noted above, the Settlement has met each of

1 the Hanlon factors. Supra §§ V.A(1)-(5). As to “any agreement required to be identified by Rule 2 23(e)(3)[,]” no such agreement exists in this case other than the Settlement.

3 As to “the effectiveness of any proposed method of distributing relief to the class,” it is 4 “important for the court to scrutinize the method of claims processing to ensure that it facilitates 5 filing legitimate claims.” Alvarez v. Sirius XM Radio Inc., 2020 WL 7314793, at *6 (C.D. Cal.
6 July 15, 2020) (citing Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e), 2018 Advisory Committee Notes). “A claims 7 processing method should deter or defeat unjustified claims, but the court should be alert to 8 whether the claims process is unduly demanding.” Id. Here, under the terms of the Settlement, 9 Settlement Class Members will receive Automatic Account Credit Codes for up to eight (8) weeks’ 10 free access to WaPo Subscriptions services, without having to file any claim. Settlement ¶ 2.2.
11 Alternatively, Settlement Class Members can submit a claim form and, if approved, receive a pro 12 rata payment from the Settlement Fund. Id. ¶ 2.2(f). The claims process is only required for 13 Settlement Class Members who opt to elect cash and it “requires logging on to the Settlement
14 Website and submitting a Claim there, or a Settlement Class Member may print the Claim form 15 from that website and mail a filled-in hard-copy to the Settlement Administrator if they prefer.” 16 Alvarez, 2020 WL 7314793, at *6. The Court should find that “this process is not unduly 17 demanding, and that the proposed method of distributing relief to the Class is effective.” Id.

18 Next, as to “the terms of any proposed award of attorney’s fees,” Class Counsel will apply 19 for attorneys’ fees, costs, and expenses “not to exceed $2,000,000,” which constitutes 20 approximately 29 percent of the Settlement Value. Settlement ¶ 8.1. The Ninth Circuit has 21 identified five factors that are relevant in determining whether requested attorneys’ fees are 22 reasonable: (a) the results achieved; (b) the risk of litigation; (c) whether Class Counsel’s work 23 generated benefits beyond the Class settlement fund, (d) market rates as reflected by awards made 24 in similar cases; and (e) the contingent nature of the fee and the financial burden carried by 25 Plaintiff and the Class. See Vizcaino v. Microsoft Corp., 290 F.3d 1043, 1048-50 (9th Cir. 2002).
26 Here, Proposed Class Counsel has easily satisfied each factor.

27 First, with respect to the results achieved, Class Counsel’s efforts have secured a settlement
28 consisting of a mix of monetary and in-kind relief, with a total value of $6,762,480. As discussed

1 in detail above, this is an excellent result. See supra § V.A(4).

2 Second, Plaintiff has established that there are significant risks in entering a protracted 3 litigation. See supra §§ V.A(2)-(3). Thus, “[i]n the absence of settlement now, the parties would 4 incur significant additional costs in discovery, including depositions, ... a survey of [defendant’s] 5 customers regarding the materiality of the alleged misrepresentations, and expert discovery.”
6 Larsen, 2014 WL 3404531, at *4. “Moreover, settlement is favored where, as here, significant 7 procedural hurdles remain, including class certification and an anticipated appeal.” Id. (citing 8 Rodriguez, 563 F.3d at 966). “Avoiding such unnecessary and unwarranted expenditure of 9 resources and time would benefit all parties, as well as conserve judicial resources.” Id. (citing 10 Garner, 2010 WL 1687832, at *10). “Accordingly, the high risk, expense, and complex nature of 11 the case weigh in favor of approving the settlement.” Id. (citing Rodriguez, 563 F.3d at 964).

12 Third, as noted above, see supra § IV.E, Class Counsel’s time and efforts in this litigation 13 have generated benefits beyond the Class settlement fund. See also Settlement ¶ 2.3.

14 Fourth, Plaintiff’s counsel’s requested fee is consistent with market rates as reflected by 15 awards made in similar cases. Indeed, courts in this Circuit routinely approve fee requests for up to 16 one-third of a common fund. See, e.g., Blandino v. MCM Constr., Inc., 2014 WL 11369763, at *3 17 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 6, 2014) (Orrick, J.) (awarding 33% of settlement fund in attorneys’ fees); In re
18 Lidoderm Antitrust Litig., 2018 WL 4620695 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 20, 2018) (Orrick, J.) (awarding 19 33% in fees); In re Mego Fin. Corp. Sec. Litig., 213 F.3d 454, 457, 460 (9th Cir. 2000) (affirming 20 33.5% fee award); Linney v. Cellular Alaska P’ship, 1997 WL 450064, at *7 (N.D. Cal. July 18, 21 1997), aff’d, 151 F.3d 1234 (9th Cir. 1998) (affirming 33.3% fee award) (“The $2,000,000
22 requested by class counsel amounts to one-third of this common fund. ... Courts in this district 23 have consistently approved attorneys’ fees which amount to approximately one-third of the relief
24 procured for the class.”) (citations omitted); In re Pac. Enterprises Sec. Litig., 47 F.3d at 379 25 (affirming 33% fee award); Vasquez v. Coast Valley Roofing, Inc., 266 F.R.D. 482, 491 (E.D. Cal.
26 2010) (noting that “[t]he typical range of acceptable attorneys’ fees in the Ninth Circuit is 20% to 27 33 1/3% of the total settlement value”); In re Activision Sec. Litig., 723 F. Supp. 1373, 1375 (N.D.
28 Cal. 1989) (awarding fee of 32.8%); Garner v. State Farm Mut. Auto. Ins. Co., 2010 WL 1687829,

1 at *1 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 22, 2010) (“A fee award of 30 percent is within the ‘usual range’ of fee
 2 awards that Ninth Circuit courts award in common fund cases.”); Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1050 3 (affirming 28% fee award); Larsen, 2014 WL 3404531, at *9 (Orrick, J.) (“[Counsel’s] request for 4 attorneys’ fees in the amount of 28% of the common fund falls within the range of acceptable
 5 attorneys’ fees in Ninth Circuit cases.”) (citations omitted); Wellens v. Sankyo, 2016 WL 8115715, 6 at *3 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 11, 2016) (Orrick, J.) (awarding 36% of $8,200,000 settlement fund in fees).<sup>7</sup>

7 Finally, the requested fees are also fair given the significant time Class Counsel has devoted 8 to this case on a contingency fee basis, with the threat of no recovery at all absent a successful 9 resolution. Thus, because of the contingent nature of the fee and the financial burden carried by 10 Plaintiff and the Class, Plaintiff’s Counsel’s requested fee award of 29% of the total Settlement 11 Value is reasonable and appropriate in this case. See Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1048-50.

12 The Settlement therefore provides adequate relief to the Class under Rule 23(e)(2)(C), and 13 the requested attorneys’ fees are reasonable in relation to such relief.

14 4. The Settlement Treats All Class Members Equally

15 “The final Rule 23(e)(2) factor is whether ‘the proposal treats class members equitably 16 relative to each other.’” Perks, 2021 WL 1146038, at *6 (citing Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2)(D)). In 17 assessing this factor, “the Court considers whether the proposal “‘improperly grant[s] preferential 18 treatment to class representatives or segments of the class.’” Id. (citing In re Tableware Antitrust 19 Litig., 484 F. Supp. 2d at 1079).

20 Here, in addition to providing Automatic Account Credit Codes to those who do nothing, 21 the Settlement also distributes Automatic Account Credit Codes (or cash relief to those who submit 22 a claim) on a pro rata basis, and the amount each Class Member will receive depends on whether a 23 given Class Member’s most recently active WaPo Subscription was for an Annual or Four-Week
 24 renewal term, which had different renewal costs. Settlement ¶ 2.2. Settlement Class Members 25 with Annual WaPo Subscriptions, whether active or inactive, will receive an Automatic Account 26

4 Automatic Account Credit Code for four (4) weeks of free subscription services, valued at $10 (or 5 a pro rata cash payment from the Settlement Fund, which the Parties estimate to be $10). Id.
6 Courts in this Circuit have found that allocating Settlement benefits among Class Members in this 7 manner is equitable. See Perks, 2021 WL 1146038, at *6 (“This pro rata distribution is inherently
8 equitable because it treats Class Members fairly based on the amount of each member's potential 9 damages.”); In re Extreme Networks, Inc. Sec. Litig., 2019 WL 3290770, at *8 (N.D. Cal. July 22, 14 State of California v. eBay, Inc., 2014 WL 4273888, at *5 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 29, 2014)). Thus, this 15 factor weighs in favor of granting approval.

16 VI. CONDITIONAL CERTIFICATION OF THE RULE 23 CLASS IS APPROPRIATE

17 Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court conditionally certify the Settlement Class for 18 purposes of effectuating the settlement. See Newberg, § 11.27 (4th ed. 2002) (“When the court has 19 not yet entered a formal order determining that the action may be maintained as a class action, the 20 parties may stipulate that it be maintained as a class action for the purpose of settlement only.”).
21 The Court should determine that the proposed Settlement Class satisfies the requirements of Rule
22 23(a) and at least one of the subsections of Rule 23(b), see Amchem Prods., Inc. v. Windsor, 521
23 U.S. 591, 620 (1997), and provisionally certify the settlement class, appoint Plaintiff’s counsel as 24 Class Counsel, and appoint Plaintiff as the Class Representative.

25 Under Rule 23(a), a class action may be maintained if all of the prongs of Rule 23(a) are 26 met, as well as one of the prongs of Rule 23(b). Rule 23(a) requires that:

- 27 (1) the class is so numerous that joinder of all members is 28 impracticable;

- 1 (2) there are questions of law or fact common to the class;
- 2 (3) the claims or defenses of the representative parties are typical of the claims or defenses of the class; and
- 3 (4) the representative parties will fairly and adequately protect the 4 interests of the class.

5 Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a). Additionally, Rule 23(b)(3) requires the court to find that “questions of law 6 or fact common to the members of the class predominate over any questions affecting only 7 individual members, and that a class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and 8 efficient adjudication of the controversy.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3). As discussed below, all 9 applicable Rule 23 requirements are met, and Defendant consents to provisional certification for 10 settlement purposes. Thus, preliminary approval should be granted.

11 A. The Class Satisfies Rule 23(a)

12 1. Numerosity

13 Rule 23(a)(1) requires is satisfied when the class is “so numerous that joinder of all 14 members is impracticable.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(1). Numerosity is presumed at a level of 40
15 members. See Krommenhock v. Post Foods, LLC, 334 F.R.D. 552, 562 n.2 (N.D. Cal. 2020)
16 (Orrick, J.) (“Courts generally find numerosity satisfied if the class includes forty or more 17 members.”) (citations omitted). Here, the proposed Settlement Class includes approximately 18 321,671 persons who enrolled in and were charged renewal fees in connection with the WaPo 19 Subscriptions during the Class Period. Klorczyk Decl. ¶ 14. Numerosity is therefore satisfied.

20 2. Commonality

21 Rule 23(a)(2) requires the existence of “questions of law or fact common to the class.” Fed.
22 R. Civ. P. 23(a)(2). Commonality is established if Plaintiff and Class Members’ claims “depend on 23 a common contention ... of such a nature that it is capable of class-wide resolution[,] which means 24 that determination of its truth or falsity will resolve an issue that is central to the validity of each 25 one of the claims in one stroke.” Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. v. Dukes, 564 U.S. 338, 350 (2011).
26 Although the claims need not be identical, they must share common questions of fact or law. See 27 Alvarez, 2020 WL 7314793, at *7. “For instance, a class meets the commonality requirement if 28 members share the same legal issues but have different factual foundations.” Id. Courts construe

1 the commonality requirement liberally. Because the commonality requirement may be satisfied by 2 a single common issue, it is easily met. Indeed, “[f]or purposes of Rule 23(a)(2), ‘even a single 3 common question will do.’” Dalchau v. Fastaff, LLC, 2018 WL 1709925, at *7 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 9, 4 2018) (Orrick, J.) (quoting Dukes, 564 U.S. at 359).

5 Here, there are common questions of law and fact that will generate common answers apt to 6 drive the resolution of the litigation. Plaintiff alleges that WaPo made identical misrepresentations 7 and omissions regarding the terms of payment for and cancellation of the WaPo Subscriptions, and 8 that it “uniformly fail[ed] to obtain any form of consent ... before charging consumers’ Payment 9 Methods on a recurring basis.” FAC ¶ 34; see also Avanquest, 2015 WL 4396137, at *2 (Orrick, 10 J.) (“[T]here are questions of law and fact common to all class members, because all bought the 11 same software from Avanquest and suffered the same general type of injury.”). Common questions 12 include: (1) whether WaPo failed to disclose the automatic renewal offer terms in a clear and 13 conspicuous manner and in visual proximity to the request for consent to the offer; (2) whether 14 WaPo failed to obtain consumers’ affirmative consent to the automatic renewal offer terms; and (3)
 15 whether WaPo failed to provide an acknowledgement, capable of being retained by the consumer, 16 that contained the automatic renewal offer terms and information on how to cancel. FAC ¶ 63.
 17 Courts considering similar claims resulting from uniform unlawful conduct routinely certify classes 18 based on evidence of a common policy. See, e.g., Ries v. Arizona Beverages USA LLC, 287 F.R.D.
 19 523, 537 (N.D. Cal. 2012) (“Courts routinely find commonality in false advertising cases that are 20 materially indistinguishable from the matter at bar,” involving consumer products). Further, 21 Plaintiff’s claims are brought under legal theories common to the Class as a whole and that alone is 22 enough to establish commonality. See Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1019 (“All questions of fact and law
 23 need not be common to satisfy the rule. The existence of shared legal issues with divergent factual 24 predicates is sufficient, as is a common core of salient facts coupled with disparate legal remedies
 25 within the class.”). Here, all of the legal theories asserted by Plaintiff are common to all Class 26 Members. See FAC ¶¶ 70-125. Accordingly, commonality is satisfied.

27 3. Typicality

28 Rule 23(a)(3) requires that the claims of the representative Plaintiff be “typical of the 1 claims ... of the class.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(3). “Under the rule’s permissive standards, 2 representative claims are ‘typical’ if they are reasonably co-extensive with those of absent class 3 members; they need not be substantially identical.” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1020. To meet the 4 typicality requirement, the representative Plaintiff simply must demonstrate that the members of 5 the settlement class have the same or similar grievances. See Gen. Tel. Co. of the Southwest

 6 Falcon, 457 U.S. 147, 161 (1982).

7 Here, Plaintiff alleges that Defendant’s practice of charging renewal fees for its WaPo 8 Subscriptions to consumers’ payment methods without first obtaining their affirmative consent to 9 the transaction violated the ARL and other California statutes because Defendant failed to fully 10 comply with the ARL in its WaPo Subscription offerings. FAC ¶¶ 1-4, 31-58. Plaintiff further 11 contends that Defendant’s automatic renewal process is done in the exact same manner and was 12 directed at, or affected, both Plaintiff and putative Class Members in the same exact way.
 13 Accordingly, by pursuing her own claims in this matter, Plaintiff will necessarily advance the 14 interests of the Settlement Class. Thus, Plaintiff’s claims are typical because they arise “from the 15 same event or practice or course of conduct that gave rise to the claims of other class members and 16 h[er] claims were based on the same legal theory.” Ramirez v. TransUnion LLC, 951 F.3d 1008, 17 1033 (9th Cir. 2020) (internal citations omitted); see also Chavez v. Blue Sky Natural Beverage 18 Co., 268 F.R.D. 365, 378 (N.D. Cal. 2010) (typicality satisfied where named plaintiff alleged 19 substantially the same misrepresentation regarding products as that suffered by class).

20 4. Adequacy

21 The final requirement of Rule 23(a) is that the representative parties must “fairly and 22 adequately protect the interests of the class.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(4). A plaintiff and class 23 counsel will adequately represent the Class where they: (1) do not have conflicts of interests with 24 other Class Members; and (2) prosecute the action vigorously on behalf of the class. See Staton v.
 25 Boeing Co., 327 F.3d 938, 958 (9th Cir. 2003). Moreover, adequacy is presumed where a fair 26 settlement was negotiated at arm’s-length. See Newberg, § 11.28, at 11-59.

27 In this case, Plaintiff – like every Settlement Class Member – enrolled in a WaPo 28 Subscription that automatically renewed during the Class Period. FAC ¶¶ 5, 59. Plaintiff and

1 Settlement Class Members thus have the same interest in recovering the damages to which they are 2 entitled. Plaintiff does not have any interest antagonistic to those of the proposed Settlement Class, 3 and her pursuit of this litigation is clear evidence of that.

4 Likewise, proposed Class Counsel – Bursor & Fisher, P.A. – have extensive experience in 5 litigating class actions of similar size, scope, and complexity to the instant action. Klorczyk Decl.
6 ¶ 19; see also id. Ex. 2, Firm Resume of Bursor & Fisher, P.A. Class Counsel regularly engages in 7 major complex litigation involving consumer products, has the resources necessary to conduct 8 litigation of this nature, and has frequently been appointed lead class counsel by courts throughout 9 the country. See, e.g., Ebin v. Kangadis Food Inc., 297 F.R.D. 561, 566 (S.D.N.Y. 2014) (“Bursor 10 & Fisher, P.A., are class action lawyers who have experience litigating consumer claims. ... The 11 firm has been appointed class counsel in dozens of cases in both federal and state courts, and has 12 won multi-million dollar verdicts or recoveries in [six] class action jury trials since 2008.”).
13 Further, proposed Class Counsel has devoted substantial resources to the prosecution of this action 14 by investigating Plaintiff’s claims and that of the Settlement Class, pursuing those claims through 15 motion practice, conducting informal discovery, participating in private mediation, and negotiating 16 a favorable class action settlement. Klorczyk Decl. ¶¶ 5-18. In sum, proposed Class Counsel has 17 vigorously prosecuted this action and will continue to do so throughout its pendency. Id.

18 B. The Class Satisfies Rule 23(b)(3)

19 In addition to meeting the prerequisites of Rule 23(a), Plaintiff must also meet one of the 20 three requirements of Rule 23(b) to certify the proposed class. See Zinser v. Accufix Research 21 Inst., Inc., 253 F.3d 1180, 1186 (9th Cir. 2001). Under Rule 23(b)(3), a class action may be 22 maintained if “the court finds that the questions of law or fact common to the members of the class 23 predominate over any questions affecting only individual members, and that a class action is 24 superior to other available methods for fairly and efficiently adjudicating the controversy.” Fed. R.
25 Civ. P. 23(b)(3). Certification under Rule 23(b)(3) will allow class members to opt out of the 26 settlement and preserve their right to seek damages independently, which protects class members’
27 due process rights. See Ortiz v. Fibreboard Corp., 527 U.S. 815, 846-48 (1999). Certification 28 under Rule 23(b)(3) is appropriate and encouraged “whenever the actual interests of the parties can

1 be served best by settling their differences in a single action.” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1022. As 2 shown below, Plaintiff has met the Rule 23(b)(3) requirements.

3 1. Common Questions Predominate

4 Rule 23(b)(3)’s predominance requirement focuses on whether the defendant’s liability may 5 be resolved on a classwide basis, see Dukes, 564 U.S. at 359, and whether the proposed class is 6 “sufficiently cohesive to warrant adjudication by representation.” Amchem, 521 U.S. at 623.
7 Predominance exists “[w]hen common questions present a significant aspect of the case and they 8 can be resolved for all members of the class in a single adjudication.” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1022.
9 As the Supreme Court has explained, when addressing whether to certify a settlement class, courts
10 consider the fact that a trial will be unnecessary and manageability is not an issue. Amchem, 521
11 U.S. at 620. Here, Plaintiff’s allegations here all center around Defendant’s “automatic renewal 12 scheme.” FAC ¶ 1. Moreover, as noted above, common questions of law and fact exist in this 13 case. See supra § VI.A(2); FAC ¶ 63. Plaintiff explicitly and repeatedly alleges that Defendant 14 engaged in a common course of conduct. FAC ¶¶ 2, 34, 64. Predominance is therefore satisfied.

15 2. A Class Action Is A Superior Mechanism

16 Rule 23(b)(3)’s superiority requirement examines whether the class action device is 17 “superior to other available methods for fairly and efficiently adjudicating the controversy.” Fed.
18 R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3). Rule 23(b)(3) sets forth a non-exclusive list of relevant factors, including 19 whether individual class members wish to bring, or have already brought, individual actions; and 20 the desirability of concentrating the litigation of the claims in the particular forum. Id. Here, 21 Plaintiff and the Class Members have limited financial resources with which to prosecute 22 individual actions, and Plaintiff is unaware of any individual lawsuits that have been filed by Class
23 Members arising from the same allegations. Employing the class device here will not only achieve 24 economies of scale for Settlement Class Members, but will also conserve judicial system resources 25 and preserve public confidence in the integrity of the system by avoiding the expense of repetitive 26 proceedings and preventing inconsistent adjudications of similar issues and claims. See Hanlon, 27 150 F.3d at 1023. Individualized litigation also presents a potential for inconsistent or 28 contradictory judgments. In contrast, the class action device presents far fewer management

1 difficulties and provides the benefits of single adjudication, economy of scale, and comprehensive 2 supervision by a single court. Thus, a class action is the most suitable mechanism to fairly, 3 adequately, and efficiently resolve the putative Settlement Class Members' claims.

4 VII. PLAINTIFF'S COUNSEL SHOULD BE APPOINTED AS CLASS COUNSEL

5 Under Rule 23, "a court that certifies a class must appoint counsel ... [who] must fairly and 6 adequately represent the interests of the class." Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(g)(1)(B). In making this 7 determination, the Court considers proposed Class Counsel's: (1) work in identifying or 8 investigating the potential claim, (2) experience in handling class actions, other complex litigation, 9 and the types of claims asserted in the action, (3) knowledge of the applicable law, and (4) 10 resources that it will commit to representing the class. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(g)(1)(A)(i)-(iv). As 11 discussed above, proposed Class Counsel has extensive experience in prosecuting consumer class 12 actions in general. See supra § II.D. As a result of their zealous efforts in this case, proposed 13 Class Counsel have secured substantial monetary relief to the Settlement Class Members. Thus, 14 the Court should appoint Frederick J. Klorczyk III of Bursor & Fisher, P.A., as Class Counsel.

15 VIII. THE PROPOSED NOTICE PLAN SHOULD BE APPROVED

16 A. The Content Of The Proposed Class Notice Complies With Rule 23(c)(2)

17 Pursuant to Rule 23(c)(2)(B), the notice must provide:

18 the best notice practicable under the circumstances, including 19 individual notice to all members who can be identified through 20 reasonable effort. The notice must concisely and clearly state in 21 plain, easily understood language: the nature of the action; the 22 definition of the class certified; the class claims, issues, or defenses; 23 that a class member may enter an appearance through counsel if the 24 member so desires; that the court will exclude from the class any 25 member who requests exclusion, stating when and how members 26 may elect to be excluded; and the binding effect of a class judgment 27 on class members under Rule 23(c)(3).

24 Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(2)(B). Here, the proposed Notice will provide detailed information about the 25 Settlement, including: (1) a comprehensive summary of its terms; (2) Class Counsel's intent to 26 request attorneys' fees, reimbursement of expenses, and an incentive award for the Named 27 Plaintiff; and (3) a detailed explanation of the Released Claims. Settlement ¶ 4.2. The Notice will 28 also provide information about the Fairness Hearing date, the right of Class Members to seek

1 exclusion from the Class or to object to the proposed Settlement (and the deadlines and procedure
2 for doing so), and how to receive additional information. Id. ¶¶ 4.2-4.6. In short, the Notice Plan
3 will fully inform Class Members of the lawsuit and the proposed Settlement, and to provide them
4 with the information necessary to make informed decisions about their rights. The detailed 5 information in this proposed Notice goes well beyond the requirements of the Federal Rules.

6 B. Distribution Of The Class Notice Will Comply With Rule 23(c)(2)

7 The Parties have agreed upon a multi-part notice plan that easily satisfies the requirements 8 of both Rule 23 and due process. First, the Parties will provide the Class List identifying 9 individual subscribers to the Settlement Administrator. Id. ¶ 4.1(a). The Settlement Administrator 10 will then send email direct notice to all Settlement Class Members for whom a valid email address 11 is identified in Defendant’s records. Id. ¶ 4.1(b). The email will contain a link to the online claim 12 form. See id. Ex. B. If a no valid email address available, the Settlement Administrator will send 13 direct notice by First Class U.S. Mail, with a postcard claim form including return postage, to all 14 the Settlement Class Members who did not receive an email. Id. ¶¶ 4.1(b)-(d). Further, the 15 Settlement Administrator will establish a Settlement Website that shall contain the “long form 16 notice,” and access to important Court documents, upcoming deadlines, and the ability to file claim 17 forms online. Id. ¶¶ 1.30, 1.32, 1.50, 4.1(e). Finally, the Settlement Administrator will provide 18 notice to state and federal officials as required by the Class Action Fairness Act, 28 U.S.C. § 1715.
19 See Settlement ¶ 4.1(f). These proposed methods for providing Notice to the Class comport with 20 both Rule 23 and due process, and the Notice Plan should thus be approved.

21 IX. CONCLUSION

22 For the reasons set forth above, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court grant her 23 Motion for Preliminary Approval of the Settlement. A Proposed Order granting preliminary 24 approval, certifying the Settlement Class, appointing Class Counsel, and approving the Proposed 25 Notice of Settlement, is submitted herewith.
